that Miss Niland's paper had not been re-ceived here, Mr. Sheridan's contention to the contrary notwithstanding.

The Postmester also called upon Miss Niland, who assured him that she had not made any complaint to Mr. Sherldan, and hadn't really expected to receive the paper so soon after subscribing.

The Postmaster then gave orders that when the package of Catholic Co-lumbians arrived the next week it should he brought to him and he would open it.

This was done, and Miss Niland's pa-per was not among the number.

The trouble upon this question has been that some of our Western friends would not receive any man as the friend of silver who believed that we could not coin it freely and maintain its parity with gold without coming into an arrangement with the other great com-

"They should have been more liberal I believe today that we can see in England, the Nation that has stood most strongly against the larger use of sliver, and in Germany, a Nation that has foilowed England, the clear indications of the growth of a sentiment for an inter-national agreement upon this question. It is increasing in power; and I believe. if rightly and wisely encouraged and di-rected from America, it will finally bring other Nations, by the compulsion of their own necessities, into accord with us npon this subject."
